Who Are Change Intelligence?

Here at Change Intelligence, we are passionate about helping those who want to make a difference – just like you - to find their true value in the world. We would like to make 'work' history as everyone discovers their passion and lives their purpose instead.

We are women who were disillusioned with the lack of fulfilment in our careers and feeling unable to be ourselves, so we made decisions to set ourselves free. There is no stopping us now and as specialists in personal development for women, we are inspiring others to do the same.

We use refreshing and pragmatic, 'real world', training and coaching methods which are embedded in the practices of NLP. Ultimately, we hold a genuine desire to offer people the chance to be personally inspired to manage their lives even more successfully.

Change Intelligence pride themselves in offering a unique experience in the form of their 'For Women's Eyes Only' Accredited NLP Practitioner Programme.

What is NLP?

'NLP' (Neuro Linguistic Programming) is a byword, in our experience, for taking back control of your life. Our NLP based programmes have been developed on the back of our experience and are designed to help you break out of your comfort zone and experience a new you – the real you!

Here's the science bit - Neuro Linguistic Programming (NLP) is the technical name given to the highly developed body of research and practical insight into the relationship between individual experiences and behaviour. Our Practitioner Programme provides the opportunity to explore the link between the two, and prompts practical awareness of:

- How self limiting we can be
- How anything really is possible for me
